Your Host

About Tinashe Hunting Outfitters

Tinashe is owned and operated by Clayton and Sabrina Fletcher. The Fletcher family has been involved in hunting for the last three generations and we have hosted visitors from all over the world for hunting safaris at our luxury lodge. Tinashe is situated in the world-renowned Kalahari, a wildlife oasis in the North West province of South Africa.

When we moved here, the Kalahari was wild and uninhabited, but nevertheless, hunters have been drawn to the unique, sandy area by the promise of the safari experience of a lifetime.

Clayton grew up in big 5 country and he has been a hunter since he was a young boy. His reputation as a hunting guide grew rapidly and he soon found himself hunting with likes from the royal family from Saudi Arabia, king of Morocco, prime minister of Russia and many more.

With all his experience he is able to guide his clients safely and professionally. Clayton takes pride in his success as a hunting outfitter and guarantees outstanding trophies, great memories and new friends.

One of the best and experienced professional hunters / operator person I have ever had the privilege of working with. Having known Clayton around 15 years now and have seen many clients leave his camp and never have I seen an unhappy one. Well done, your passion shows in your professionalism.

Charles Jones

You will not find a guy any better at making hunting dreams reality than Clayton. He tailors everything about the trip to fit your expectations. From elegant air conditioned suites, to culinary delights cooked by a chef, every possible thing you could ask for to drink in a cool box, and fabulous companionship, you get it all. The hunting is whatever you want it to be. I have enough trips under this old belt to know when things are perfect. We came home from his one with just one word. (Wow). They are still probably the premier lion destination in South Africa and have added dignitary treatment beginning to end. You will always talk to people that have negative thoughts on hunting in South Africa by either talking to someone with poor experience or booking themselves with some lesser outfitter. The Tinashe experience is one for those who just want to start off with the best. I know we made the right choice every time I talk to someone else that has anything bad to say about hunting the game ranches of South Africa. Do like we have. Book with Tinashe and believe. Your dream hunt is there and you can be confident of that. Just be prepared to meet a new friend for life.

A lot of clients like to see a bit more of Southern Africa while here, and we take care of the arrangements for you.
